Video (.mp4)	Slides	Extended Abstract	Additional Files

I hereby agree to the ICAME 41 organizing team (Heidelberg University) using and publishing (according to the usage rights stated above) my above-mentioned contribution as well as my name and contact information on the ICAME 41 digital conference platform for the duration of the conference.

The data will be stored and processed on servers located in Germany (<https://www.urz.uni-heidelberg.de/en>). The material will only be used in relation to the ICAME 41 conference and there is no compensation of any kind involved. Further, my speech will not be used for commercial purposes.

While the data will be password protected on the platform, I am aware that the material could still be copied by users having access to the website and that the organizing team will have no control over its subsequent use and disclosure in that case.

If I want my materials to be available after the conference (publically) and not publish under a Creative Commons license, I will get in touch with the ICAME 41 organizing team.

I am also aware that, for public lectures, it is not allowed to use the work of other artists (e.g., movies, graphics, illustrations, or photographs) without the expressed consent of the copyright holder.
